Autumn Term 2017 Newsletter

Dear Parents and Carers,

Welcome back from the summer break and a warm welcome to some of the new children and families that are joining us at Moreland this term. It has been great to see the children so enthusiastic about returning to nursery.

This term we have been reviewing our approach towards how we plan and carry out creative activities with children. You may notice in our displays that there will be greater emphasis on the process of how children learn as opposed to the end product.

We hope to provide children with a range of materials to explore. We are currently collecting materials such as boxes, bottles and containers and we would be grateful if you could bring some from home.

Here is an example of a piece of art work by a two year old child. This child used leaves to explore different ways of using paint, glue, glitter and experimented with different techniques of making marks.

Read with your child mornings

At Moreland we recognise and value that parents are their child's first educators. We will be encouraging all parents to take an active role in their child's education by inviting parents to stay for half an hour to share a story with their child on Friday 29th September 2017 between 9.00-9.30am. Micheal from Finsbury library will also join us on the day to share multilingual books and stories from different cultural contexts. This will also be an opportunity to see how our library system works at Moreland if your child doesn't already use the library. Staff will also be happy to share techniques and strategies with you to make story time interesting and fun.

We hope you will be able to join us for this event.

Best wishes
